

TIDES Samoa

17-19 February 2010

Your Invitation to

TIDES

TIDES is an event which provides a networking platform for Pacific Island tourism stakeholders both private and public to meet representatives of the international business community with a view to creating mutually beneficial commercial partnerships.

To support this a high level conference program will provide insights into a range of international and regional trends as they relates to access, marketing & distribution, sustainability and investment. Plus exhibit a range of cutting edge environmental technology solutions.

TIDES will showcase each of the South Pacific Island destinations including a number of potential business partnership opportunities currently available.

If you are seeking to expand your business interests into the region or wish to have a say in how the industry should be developedyou need to be at TIDES
